

Ronald Kiebert (FSSS)

Finance Shared Service Software (FSSS) is a young company, founded by director Ronald Kiebert in order to assist large international organizations in streamlining their business processes. More specifically, the processes which has to give more insight into the results of the different processes inside the company. Custom made ICT applications are essential in this process. In order to optimally serve its clients, FSSS BV uses the expertise of the IntoSoft developers. "They develop custom made solutions to solve complex issues. That's essential for the projects my company is focusing on," says Ronald.

In 2017 an multinational company asked FSSS BV to streamline its financial and administrative business processes. "At that moment, a part of the ICT applications has already been developed in China. In order to achieve the desired result in the field of process analysis, a different proposition was needed. In the spring of 2018 we started in cooperation with IntoSoft to develop the web-based toolkit EPICS. An advanced system that gives insight into the goings-on in all business divisions or individual branches. At the end of 2019 we can deliver this complete project, but the beauty of EPICS is the fact that our client can use various parts of the system already. They now immediately benefit from this project. This phased implementation is to a large extent the merit of the developers of IntoSoft ", according to the FSSS BV director.

Easy communication

Besides the huge expertise and competing pricing, the way in which IntoSoft managed the software developers team was an important reason for Ronald to cooperate with IntoSoft. "Nothing to the detriment of Asian companies, but its easier and faster to communicate with an English spoken team in a time zone close to The Netherlands. That's especially with this kind of long-term, comprehensive and complex projects an benefit. Therefore, I'm positive about our cooperation", says Ronald Kiebert.
